SERMON NOTES

Interruptions As Opportunities:
“An Opportunity to Minister to the Unseen”
Mark 5:24-34

As Jesus was on his way to save the life of a little girl, he was “interrupted” by the sudden flow of healing power from his body. A woman desperate for healing after many years of illness had secretly reached out in faith to touch his robe. Jesus’ loving response is a great lesson to us about ministering to the unseen.

- ◆ Not everyone who needs attention is willing to ask for it.
- ◆ There are many “invisible” and forgotten people all around us.
- ◆ They are often the people who need our attention the most.
- ◆ As you learn to see the unseen, hear the unheard, and value the unwanted, don’t be surprised if they teach you lessons about deep faith.

Sunday School Promotion is Today!

Beginning today, we consider that the children and youth of our church have now moved up into next school grade! Some of our young students will still meet in their same Sunday School classroom, while other will “graduate” into a new one. Parents, please check the class listings posted in the Commons. Those moving from 5th into the 6th grade will now be in the youth group, and will meet in the Community Building.

Youth Water Day!
Next Sunday, July 14, 4:30
Meet at the pavilion ready for some wet games and activities.

Church Council & Deacons Mtg
Next Sunday, July 14
4:30pm in Room 105/107

School Supply Drive—July 7-31

This year we are shifting our focus from backpacks (which are plentiful) to other school supplies. Financial donations will help us buy in bulk to help students and teachers in local schools. Our goal is $3000. See the display in the Commons for more information.
